SKILLSTORM APPOINTS PAUL MOURA AS CONTROLLER

National technical consulting and outsourcing firm expands executive team with experienced financial professional

Fort Lauderdale, Florida (August 26, 2010) – SkillStorm, a national technical consulting and IT services firm, has hired Paul Moura as Controller. With more than 15 years of experience in the Investment Management, Construction, Integrated Security Services and Real Estate industries, Moura is responsible for all SkillStorm accounting operations including financial reporting, accounting records and a comprehensive set of companywide controls and budgets. Moura is based out of the Fort Lauderdale, Florida office.

“We are thrilled to add Paul to the team. He brings a wealth of financial knowledge and will be an integral part of our company’s continued success. We have the utmost confidence in Paul and look forward to all the wonderful things he will accomplish for SkillStorm,” said SkillStorm CEO Vince Virga.

Prior to joining SkillStorm, Moura served as Director of Finance and Operations for a local general contracting company. In this role, Moura was responsible for financial reporting, planning, budgeting, human resources and project bidding. He managed over 25 employees in day-to-day operations focusing on process changes to drive efficient accounting, finance and business processes and customized pricing of bids which contributed to securing $8 million in new sales. Moura was also the President and founder of an investment firm, consulting as a Controller for several companies with responsibilities including general accounting, financial reporting, profitability analysis, business process improvements, payroll processing, employee recruiting, job costing and tax preparation.

Moura has also served as Manager of Financial Analysis and Budgeting for a leading international security solutions group where he managed the consolidation and reporting of a $2.8 billion annual budget across three distinct business lines operating in 54 countries. In this position, Moura was also a key member of a cross-functional financial business team that focused on maximizing the company’s valuation which resulted in the company’s sale for $573 million.

Moura received his Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting and Finance from Florida State University and his Master of Business Administration from the University of Miami with a specialization in International Business. He is a Certified Public Accountant in the state of Florida and is an active member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA).
